

> Project name:
Ram Quarter, Wandsworth

> Project size: A multi-million pound residential-led, mixed-use development, transformed from the Young's Brewery site into a vibrant urban quarter. Set within the Grade II listed brewery complex is Ram (a new craft brewery), a heritage centre, independent retail shops, restaurants and bars, and exclusive loft-style apartments.

> Project scope: The listed buildings have been carefully blended into the overall masterplan with a series of interlinked public spaces. The residential tower dominates with its triangular form and dramatic angular corners and required a palette of materials to contrast with the brick facades of the neighbouring low-rise buildings.

> Project details: EcoRight supplied its Eco350 blend of hydraulic lime mortar to match some of the historical brickwork.

Because of the large quantities required, a bulk silo was placed on site requiring 25-tonne fill ups to keep pace with construction progress.

> Architects: EPR Architects

> Contractors: Ardmore Group

Ram Quarter

Ram Quarter at Wandsworth is a multi-million pound residential-led, mixed-use development, transformed from the Young's Brewery site into a vibrant urban quarter. Set within the Grade II listed brewery complex is Ram – a new craft brewery, a heritage centre, independent retail shops, restaurants and bars, and exclusive loft-style apartment.

The listed buildings have been carefully blended into the overall masterplan with a series of interlinked public spaces. The residential tower dominates with its triangular form and dramatic angular corners and required a palette of materials to contrast with the brick facades of the neighbouring low-rise buildings.

Ram Quarter is 2021 Winner of British Homes Awards: Best Mixed-Use Development of the Year.
